Principal Conductor Edward Gardner opens the season with a bang, launching our first concert with Beethoven's stirring 'Egmont' Overture. The drama ramps up further as superstar violinist Patricia Kopatchinskaja – 'a player of rare expressive energy' (New York Times) – wrings every drop of emotion from Shostakovich's powerful Violin Concerto No. 1, before Sibelius's glorious, uplifting Fifth Symphony.

There's more Beethoven to come in November, when celebrated British pianist Isata Kanneh-Mason makes her LPO debut with the composer's Fourth Piano Concerto, considered by many to be his most beautiful. Young Hungarian conductor Martin Rajna also makes his debut in a programme that includes Weber's colourful Der Freischütz Overture and Dvořák's tuneful Eighth Symphony.

We return to Brighton Dome in February to celebrate the 150th anniversary of French composer Ravel with LPO 2024/25 Fellow Conductor Juya Shin. Mentored by Principal Conductor Edward Gardner, she'll take to the stage for a programme featuring Ravel's haunting Pavane and the Piano Concerto for the Left Hand, performed by the phenomenal one-handed British pianist Nicholas McCarthy. The drama continues with Rimsky-Korsakov's Scheherazade, sweeping us all away on a voyage to the enchanting world of the Arabian Nights.

March sees more favourites of the Classical repertoire, when conductor Adam Hickox and violinist Hyeyoon Park bring our season to a stylish close with a delightful programme of Schumann, Beethoven and Brahms.

As well as our concerts on the Brighton Dome stage, we're delighted to share the wonder of classical music with our local South Coast communities. With our local partners we're working together to offer musical opportunities for people of all ages in the area. More information can be found on page 7 of this brochure.

We can't wait for the new Brighton season to start, and hope you'll join us at a concert soon!

SATURDAY 5 OCTOBER 2024, 7.30PM

BRIGHTON DOME

Edward Gardner conducts Sibelius

Beethoven Overture, Egmont (8')
Shostakovich Violin Concerto No. 1 (36')
Sibelius Symphony No. 5 (31')

Edward Gardner conductor*
Patricia Kopatchinskaja violin

Sibelius sees a flight of swans on a summer evening, and hears a melody that could have been wrought from the elements. Beethoven shakes his fist at tyranny, and sounds a fanfare for freedom. And Shostakovich whispers secrets in the shadows, in a concerto that refuses to be silent. It's all about memory, and all about truth. Big music demands big personalities, and they don't come much bigger than violinist Patricia Kopatchinskaja: virtuoso, storyteller and all-round phenomenon. With LPO Principal Conductor Edward Gardner at the helm, she'll drive straight to the heart of this powerful programme.

*Edward Gardner's position in the LPO is generously supported by Aud Jebsen.

BRIGHTON DOME

Isata Kanneh-Mason plays Beethoven

Weber Overture, Der Freischütz (10')
Beethoven Piano Concerto No. 4 (34')
Dvořák Symphony No. 8 (36')

Martin Rajna conductor
Isata Kanneh-Mason piano

Strange but true: they used to call Dvořák's Eighth his 'English' symphony. Yet its lilting melodies and exuberant dance rhythms could hardly be more Czech – in fact, it's hard to think of a composer who sounds more thoroughly at home, and loving it. Pure sunshine, in other words, and a gloriously tuneful climax to a concert that begins with Weber's spine-tingling gothic fairytale. In between: well, you can't have missed the buzz around Isata Kanneh-Mason, and tonight this superb young British pianist joins guest conductor Martin Rajna for Beethoven's fourth (and most personal) piano concerto. Pure poetry.

Pre-concert event, 6.45pm

Join us for a special free performance in the foyer, given by young musicians from Create Music, the music education hub for Brighton & Hove and East Sussex.

BRIGHTON DOME

Ravel & Rimsky-Korsakov

Ravel Pavane pour une infante défunte (6')
Ravel Piano Concerto for the Left Hand (19')
Rimsky-Korsakov Scheherazade (47')

Juya Shin conductor*
Nicholas McCarthy piano

A wicked sultan, a beautiful princess, and a thousand and one nights of pleasure: Rimsky-Korsakov's Scheherazade might sound like a box of Turkish Delight, but make no mistake, it's one of classical music's most sensuous treats. So let the LPO and 2024/25 Fellow Conductor Juya Shin show you a world of glittering excess, swashbuckling thrills and pure silken seduction, all painted in sumptuous orchestral colour. First though, enjoy Ravel at his most personal and powerful, as the 'astonishing' (Classic FM) pianist Nicholas McCarthy plays the thrilling Piano Concerto for the Left Hand. Trust us: hearing is believing.

BRIGHTON DOME

Beethoven & Brahms

R Schumann Overture, Genoveva (9')
Beethoven Violin Concerto (42')
Brahms Symphony No. 4 (40')

Adam Hickox conductor
Hyeyoon Park violin

True romance: for the composers of the Romantic era, music was about gazing into the human soul and transforming raw passion into timeless beauty. And music doesn't get much more beautiful than Beethoven's radiant Violin Concerto: a sunlit, soaring masterpiece in which the soloist almost seems to take flight. There's certainly nothing earthbound about our soloist – the award-winning Korean violinist Hyeyoon Park has been described as 'a marvel'. Her performance is the big, warm heart of a concert that opens with Schumann's swashbuckling overture and ends with Brahms's last symphony – tragedy, tenderness and defiance, told straight from the heart.
